

Fashion Musts and Misses on Samhain

by July Lewis & Georgie Dennison

HELLO THERE, my community. This is Georgette, Reclaiming Quarterly's fashion editor. I know you would agree that the Reclaiming Community sorely needs some fashion sense and guidance. So, I have decided to invoke the Guardians of the Watchtowers of Style: Chanel; Versace; and the Goddess Herself, Princess Diana; to aid us in this process. In the spirit of those icons, I have asked June, personal assistant to Starhawk... a known fashion priestess... to advise the community on proper attire for the Spiral Dance.

G: What will the new look be for this year's Spiral Dance?

June: This year we'll be seeing simple gowns in pastels and whites. A refreshing change from the the dour gowns of previous years. BLACK IS OUT. We will have Fashion Dragons at the dance to carry off those who dress in anything darker than jewel tones. It's a celebration of life, it's the New Year. And this will be expressed by the new, lighter colors we'll be seeing this season.

G: How can one fully embody, or one could say, aspect, that look? What type of fabrics? How about hemlines? And of course, footwear and headdresses can't be overlooked.

J: Well, silks are always in good taste. A nice cashmere drape works well in the San Francisco climate and falls so elegantly in the softer-cut styles that designers will be offering this year. Hemlines will be raised to the limit for both men and women. That being so, hosiery will certainly be important. Regarding footwear, the whimsical chunky shoes will give a retro seventies feel to the proceeding. But headdresses are out. Très passé.

G: We haven't discussed cosmetics. Is there any way of discouraging people from using that silly glitter gel?

J: Hope springs eternal, Georgette, but I doubt it. For the more tastefully inclined readers I suggest natural shades, so as not to scare your dead relatives. And for the sake of the Goddess, remember to wear waterproof eyeliner and mascara.

G: It's bad enough to be swollen-eyed and puffy in public without looking like a raccoon. I so agree. But, these styles you are suggesting, they seem a bit understated for this community.

J: Oh, we can fix that.

G: How?

J: Accessorize, accessorize, accessorize!

G: What type of accessories? What does your spirit fashion guide say?

J: I'm glad you asked that, Georgette. This year Starhawk is coming out with a new line of matching magical tools and jewelry to go with her already hugely successful line of ritual clothing.

G: I'm so happy. This will truly make Samhain a celebration.

J: It's about time, isn't it? For example, there'll be rhinestone encrusted Italian pottery pentacle necklaces, and handcrafted Gucci marble athames with fine Corinthian leather sheathes and belts. Mink scarves embroidered with runes of prosperity in gold and platinum thread are de rigueur. And the wands are my special favorites.

G: Do tell. Don't stop.

J: You can get the wands in varying lengths, from handy purse size to a full six feet. They're hand carved by young artisans in Guatemala to your specifications. And made from the finest quality old-growth redwood.

G: Old-growth redwood?

J: Sustainably harvested, of course.

G: Oh, but of course. So, what other items will Starhawk be revealing? But maybe you've already said too much?

J: Yes. We want to keep some of it a surprise. This is a mystical tradition.

G: How true. So, there is a certain lack of panache and color coordination...

J: I wasn't going to say it but...

G: Somebody has to. As I was saying, a lack of style in our tradition. Do you have any advice for the fashion-challenged among our readers?

J: Well, yes. To be truly at one with your inner fashion spirit guide, I recommend sacrificing copies of Vogue to Aphrodite while burning rose incense and wearing something as tasteful as your limited imagination will al-

The Charge Card of the Goddess

with apologies to Doreen Valiente

Listen to the words of the Great Shop Keeper,
Who of Old was called MistressCard, Vasa-VISA, Dine-a-Club-A,
and by many other names:

Whenever you have need of anything,
more often than once a month, and don't wait for a full moon,
you shall succumb to the Spirit of Shopping.
You shall be free from slavery, and as a sign that you be free,
you shall get into debt shamelessly.

Sing, shop, feast, shop, make music, shop, have sex, and shop!

For my Law is to shop with all beings.
Buy cosmetics that open the door of youth,
which at least give the appearance of immortality.

I give the knowledge of a monthly bill eternal,
and beyond death,
all debt will be erased from your credit history.

Nor do I demand sacrifice, for behold,
I am the Mother of Charging Things,
and my shopping is poured out upon the Earth.

Hear the words of the Platinum Card Goddess, whose feet are all the coins of Heaven,
whose body is a huge wad of bills that encircles the Universe:

I who buy all the earth and the moon, and the stars,
and I'll take two of those mysteries of the waters, please,
I call upon your money to arise and come unto me for I am the soul of Shopping that gives life to the Universe, the IMF, and the World Bank!

From me all purchases are transacted and unto me they must be returned according to the return policy.

And you who seek to know me, know that all that buying and shopping will avail you not,
unless you know the Mystery:

You have to use the Charge Card of the Goddess!!!

low. And then you chant:

*She changes every time she dresses
and every time she dresses, changes.
Changes, dresses, dresses, changes.*

G: Will this ritual open the necessary channels?

J: If anything can this will. It also helps to use a Barbie doll as your Goddess figure.

G: Well, I'm so pleased. I feel ready to take the ferry to Avalon. I know, with your guidance, I'll be properly attired.

J: You always are, darling.

G: I wish to thank you and your inner fashion guide for these inspiring words of wisdom. I now feel that the community's needs in this arena have been met. At least, until Yule comes with its own unique challenges.

Barbie

Since GI Joe had no known female consort, and was also a eunuch, it is obvious that both Joe and Ken competed for the Goddess Barbie. One theory links this to the surviving Oak King/Holly King myths of earlier times.

Researchers also uncovered other mythical characters, known as Shakespeare, Einstein, Gandhi, and Ralph Nader. But since the ancient culture held these in much lower relative importance than Barbie, they obviously were mere minor demigods of the era.

We are thrilled to have discovered these Old ways, since they shed light upon many unexplained traditions of today. We can use this clear view of history to put our present-day customs in perspective.

After this significant success in discovering the ancient Barbie myths, additional funding has been approved for research into the ancient Ninja Turtle myths as well. Since many plastic artifacts of the Ninja Turtles have been found in North America, perhaps they are linked to the ancient Native American cultures of Turtle Island? Only time will tell.
